

Week Gone/Week Ahead - 12th June 2020 Centre Academy London

Dear Parents/Carers, Students and Staff,

A cooler week this week, much more in line with what is expected in London at this time of year! Hopefully this will change for the weekend and we have a return to our warm sunshine.

This week has been busy in school. With exams not running, this year's qualifications are being awarded by exam boards with the support of Centre Assessed Grades. We had previously sent details about the process to our GCSE candidates and this week we also provided information to our Foundation and Functional Skills students as their qualifications will be awarded in the same way. To recap, any student who was entered for a qualification this year will not have to sit their exam, instead we will provide the Exam Board with information and they will then make decisions about who will achieve the qualification and at what grade. If there are any questions about this process please do call the School, but please remember we are not able to provide students or families with details of our Centre Assessed Grades.

Next week we will be extending our on-site provision to some students who are taking GCSEs next academic year and we remain open for our children of key workers. Should there be any changes to family circumstances please let us know so that we can take this into account when deciding our on-site provision.

Have a wonderful weekend,
Miss Maddison
